Last night, New York's A&D Building, in conjunction with Interior Design, held its annual ICFF soiree, Opening Night. Hundreds of design-hungry attendees flocked to the design center ascending all 11 floors to see the season's latest arrivals at each suite. Several manufacturers debuted fresh new showrooms, expansions, or renovations, and, while all were inspiring, one stood out as the highlight of the evening: Poliform.

Amassing the entire sixth floor, the Italian design giant's modern, new space is bathed in natural light and cohesively showcases its catalog of products including furnishings, kitchens, and wardrobes.
